Ellen Leibovitch is a partner and head of Assouline & Berlowe, P.A.'s labor and employment law group. Ellen focuses her practice on labor and employment law counseling and litigation, as well as commercial and business litigation. In 2004, she achieved Board Certification in Labor and Employment Law by The Florida Bar. Ellen has significant jury and bench trial experience, trying cases at the state, federal and agency levels in the areas of theft of trade secrets, injunctive relief, overtime under the Fair Labor Standards Act, defamation, gender discrimination, age discrimination, sexual harassment and breach of partnership and other contracts. She is also skilled in drafting, analyzing and evaluating employee handbooks, as well as employment, non-compete, confidentiality, severance, separation, independent contractor and similar employment-related agreements.

Over the years, Ellen has made numerous presentations to clients and organizations on employment-related topics, including records retention requirements, unveiling the myths about employment laws, navigating through the Fair Labor Standards Act, how to develop and implement policies against harassment and discrimination, how to recognize and prevent harassment in the work place, how to investigate and remedy complaints of harassment and discrimination, how to implement diversity programs and the effective use of employee handbooks and policies.

Ellen is a former President of the South Palm Beach County Chapter of the Florida Association for Women Lawyers ("FAWL") and an ex officio member of its Board of Directors. In 2010, State FAWL created its "Leaders in the Law" award, and Ellen was one of only 25 women throughout the state who received this honor.

Ellen sits on the boards of directors for the South Palm Beach County Bar Association (and oversees that association's Labor & Employment Law Committee) and the West Boca Raton Chamber of Commerce. Ellen is also a member of the Boca Raton Chamber of Commerce and an active participant in the chamber's "Successful Women in Business" group.

Ellen is a member of The Florida Bar's Labor & Employment Section and chairs the section's voluntary/local bar association sub-committee. Ellen is also a member of the section's Wage & Hour Administration Liaison subcommittee.

In 2011, Ellen was named one of the "Top Attorneys in Florida" by The Wall Street Journal and included in the 2011 and 2102 editions of Thomson Reuters' "Florida Super Lawyers."

Ellen also sits on the Board of Directors of Senior Care Strategies, Inc.
